Abstract—In a historic decision, the Government of India has announced the implementation of the four Labour Codes - The Code on Wages, 2019, The Industrial Relations Code, 2020, The Code on Social Security, 2020 and The Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions Code, 2020 with effect from 21st November 2025, rationalising 29 existing labour laws. By modernising labour regulations, enhancing workers' welfare and aligning the labour ecosystem with the evolving world of work, this landmark move lays the foundation for a future-ready workforce and stronger, resilient industries driving labour reforms for Aatmanirbhar Bharat.

I. The key reasons behind this reform include

- Simplifying compliance: Multiplicity of laws leads to difficulty in compliance.
- Streamlining enforcement: Multiplicity of authorities in different labour laws led to complexity and difficulty in enforcement.
- Modernizing outdated laws: Most labour legislations were framed during the pre-Independence era, necessitating alignment with today's economic realities and technological advancements.

II. Benefits of Labour Reforms Across Key Sectors Fixed-Term Employees (FTE)

- FTEs to receive all benefits equal to permanent workers, including leave, medical, and social security.
- Gratuity eligibility after just one year, instead of five.
- Equal wages as permanent staff, increasing income and protection.
- Promotes direct hiring and reduces excessive contractualisation.

III. Gig & Platform Workers

- 'Gig work', 'Platform work', and 'Aggregators' have been defined for the first time.
- Aggregators must contribute 1–2% of the annual turnover, capped at 5% of the amount paid/payable to gig and platform workers.
- Aadhaar-linked Universal Account Number will make welfare benefits easy to access, fully portable, and available across states, regardless of migration.

IV. Contract Workers

- Fixed-term employees (FTE) will increase employability and ensure social security, legal protection like benefits equal to permanent employees.
- Fixed-term employees will become eligible for gratuity after one year of continuous service.

Women allowed to work in night shifts with consent, ensuring opportunity to earn higher income. Safety and welfare measures include mandatory written consent, double wages for overtime, safe transportation, CCTV surveillance, and security arrangements.

XVII. Beyond the major welfare initiatives already highlighted, the Labour Codes introduce several further reforms that strengthen worker protection and simplify compliance for employers

- National Floor Wage to ensure no worker receives a wage below the minimum living standard.
- Gender-neutral pay and job opportunities, explicitly prohibiting discrimination—including against transgender persons.
- Inspector-cum-Facilitator system, shifting enforcement towards guidance, awareness and compliance support rather than punitive action.
- Faster and predictable dispute resolution, with two-member Industrial Tribunals and the option to approach tribunals directly after conciliation.
- Single registration, single licence and single return across safety and working-conditions requirements, replacing multiple overlapping filings.
- National OSH Board to set harmonized safety and health standards across sectors.
- Mandatory safety committees in establishments with 500+ workers, improving workplace accountability.
- Higher factory applicability limits, easing regulatory burden for small units while retaining full safeguards for workers.
